

Your Birthday

by STELLA

DECEMBER 1.

YVONNE D'ARLE

This is the birthday of Miss Yvonne D'Arle, now starring in "Countess Maritza," and of Mme. Anna Robenne, the well-known dancer, whose horoscope was published on November 26.

Miss D'Arle's horoscope is very interesting because at the hour of her birth the Sun, Uranus, Mars, Mercury, Saturn and Venus were all in Sagittarius, which is quite an unusual arrangement of planetary forces. It shows, of course, that she is very much under the influence of the Sagittarian vibration and it gives her keen intuition, quick mental grasp—particularly of music and languages—an impulsive and fiery temperament with a tendency to speak very much to the point under provocation, and a great love of outdoor life and travel. The Moon in close sympathy with Jupiter in magnetic Scorpio denotes both good health and success, which will probably come in periods because of the close proximity of the stars when she was born.

The power of intense concentration is a marked characteristic of many of those born on this day. All Sagittarians have the faculty of giving undivided attention to whatever they are doing, which doubtless accounts in some measure for their success; but this happy faculty seems particularly marked in those born about the first of December. Either they have this faculty or they go to the other extreme, and, like Gemini, find it difficult to keep the mind from wandering. Almost without exception the desire to travel is very strong in those born at this time. It often happens that the earlier years are not the most fortunate for the Sagittarian; there are obstacles to be surmounted before success comes, but it is lasting when it does come and is more likely to bring the peace and contentment that makes us realize the meaning of the words:—

"Grow old along with me, the best is yet to be,
The last of life for which the first was made."

and to incur resentment and reproach by telling what they know about wrongdoing.

Again and again, in connection with my own efforts in New York city to aid in the correction of distressing and harmful evil, I have had people come to me, or write to me, stating that they knew all about a certain evil, and they would go on then and tell me the story, but close by saying: "Now, remember that I do not wish to be drawn into this thing, so please do not use my name under any circumstances."

Bosh!

Assails Spineless Persons

What possible good is such spineless and stupid inanity as that? The trouble with such people is that they have a wishbone instead of a backbone. They wish to see evil overcome and wrongs corrected, but they have not the backbone to stand up like men and do their duty by telling the truth and thus contribute their share to overcoming the evil.

It is refreshing, therefore, to see the straightforward and courageous action of Mr. Van Doren. He had none of the eagerness of a mere gossip or talebearer, and doubtless spoke the simple truth when he said:—

"I'd rather give $10,000 than get mixed up in this case."

Every selfish and earthly consideration would lead him to feel just that way. For one thing he is a man of mature age—some sixty years old, I understand—and therefore he would not desire the unpleasantness of having to uncover such a wrong condition. Besides that, his business interests are all obviously the other way. The fact that this jury is being quartered at his hotel would have led him, had he taken counsel of his selfishness and fears, to have kept his mouth shut.

Furthermore, because of the deep partisanship that has been aroused by this case, he might also have decided that he would not disclose what he knew for fear of alienating friends and making many enemies for himself personally and for his business.

In the face of all this, however, he elected to do his duty, and his action therefore we must say was a patriotic action and is praiseworthy to the last degree.

All honor to a business man and a citizen with so much courage and devotion even to difficult duty!

KING OPPOSES CAROL

BUCHAREST, Dec. 1 (By U. P.)

—King Ferdinand of Rumania has publicly aligned himself with those of his statesmen who oppose the return of former Crown Prince Carol to his former status as the heir to the throne. In a message to Parliament, Ferdinand avowed his determination to protect the interests of the Hohenzollern dynasty and of the Rumanian nation.
